Homeowners Receive Keys to New Homes Just in Time for the Holidays

Habitat for Humanity Dedicates Houses 81 and 82 in Sangamon County

Habitat for Humanity of Sangamon County celebrated the construction of its 81 and 82 homes at dedication ceremonies in December. The new homeowners thank all those who worked so hard to help them reach this goal.

Diane Boyer, a disabled senior citizen, received the keys to her home on Sunday, December 5 and Sheila Cheek, a single mother with two kids, received the keys to her home on Wednesday, December 8.

Through donations of money and materials and volunteer labor, Habitat for Humanity of Sangamon County was able to build the homes and sell them at an affordable price. The homeowners purchased the homes with no-profit loans, and their monthly mortgage payments will be used to build more Habitat houses.

After explaining that the families had each performed 250 sweat equity hours working on their home and the homes of others as a requirement for becoming Habitat homeowners, Sarah Mackey, executive director, presented each family with the keys to their new home.

“Habitat for Humanity is proud to partner with local businesses, churches and volunteers to increase the number of decent, affordable houses in Sangamon County,” said Mackey. “Together, we are helping families escape from unsafe, unhealthy living conditions.”

Habitat for Humanity helps families and individuals break the cycle of poverty and build long-term financial security. Habitat's affordable, no-profit house payments free up money for food, child care, medicine and other necessities. And research has shown that decent housing improves health, increases children's educational achievement and strengthens community ties.

Habitat for Humanity is currently in the process of building Habitat house #83 in Sangamon County. For more information or to join the efforts to eliminate poverty housing, visit habitatsangamon.com or call 217.523.2710.
